

new managers are

NOT READY TO LEAD

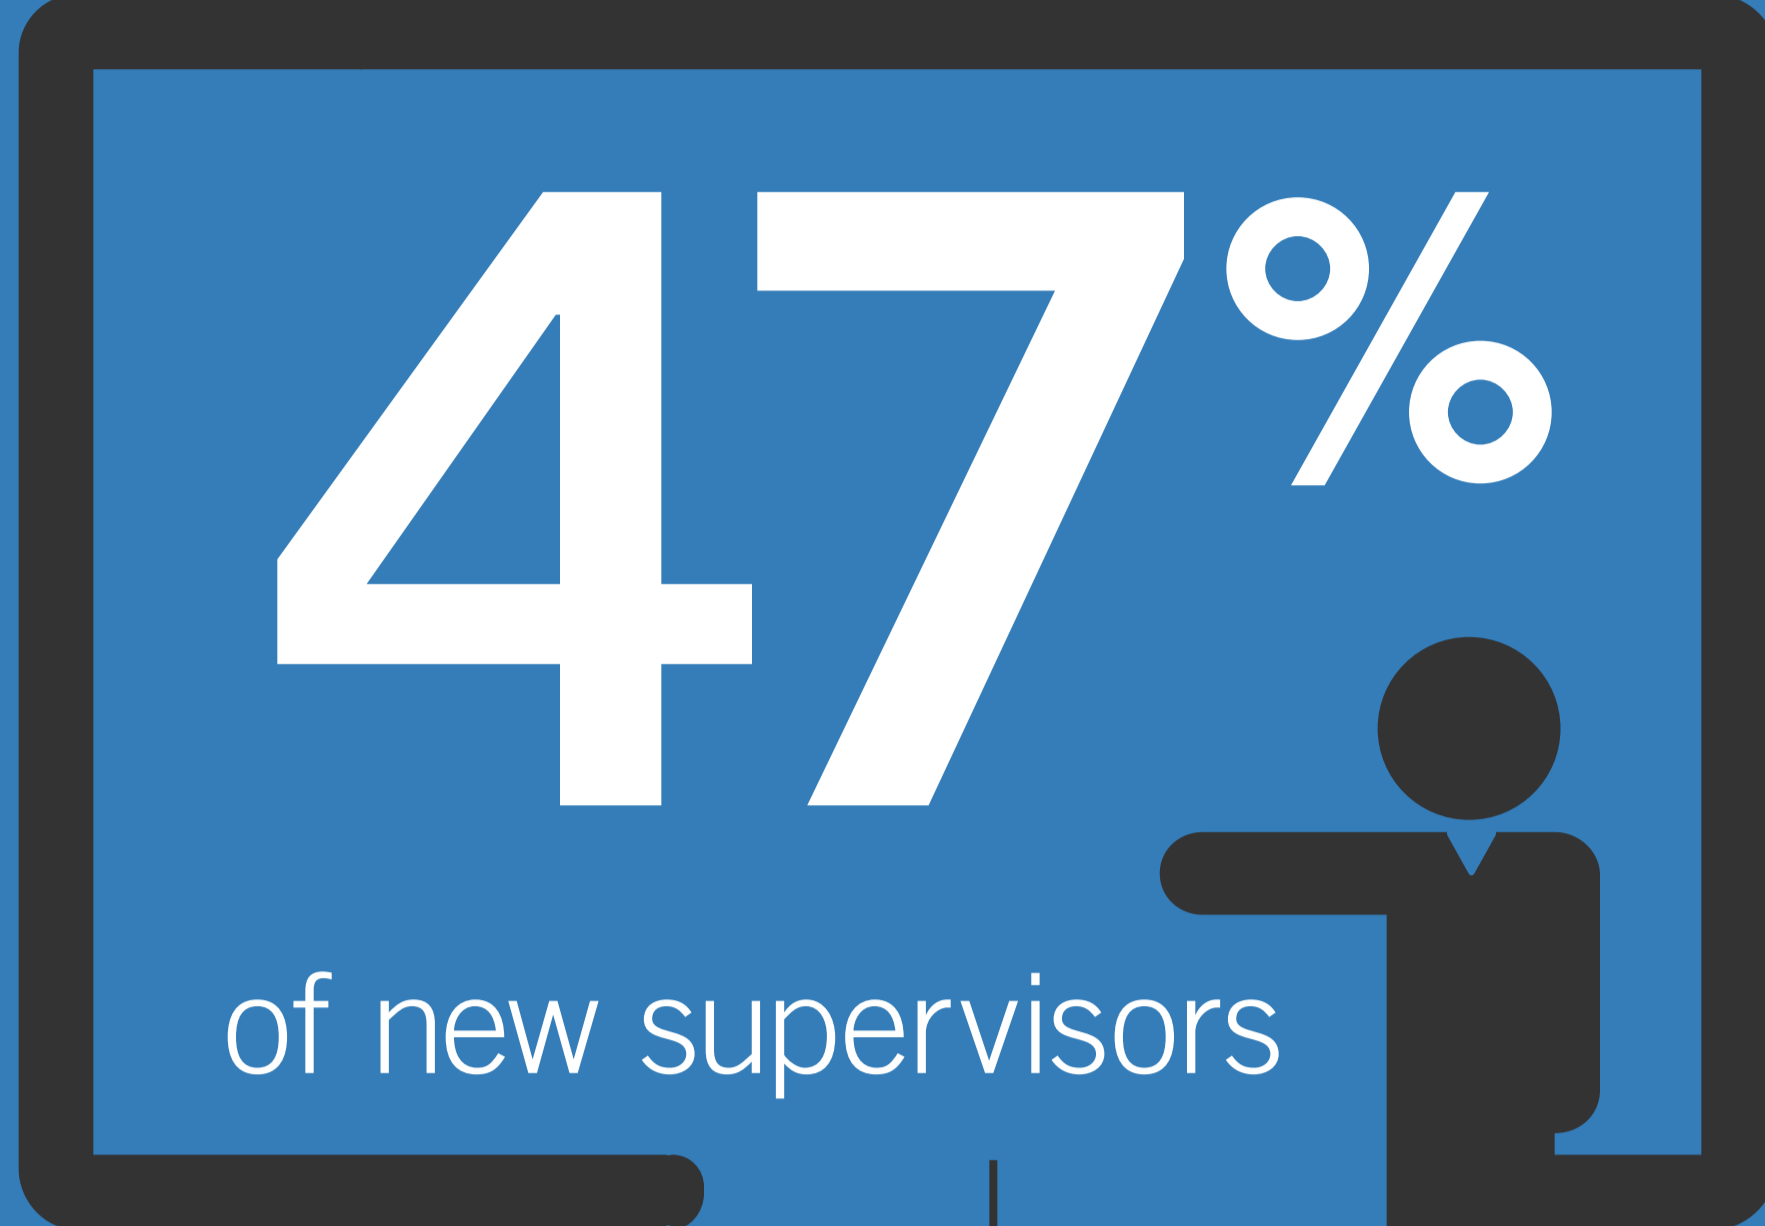

With over two million people being promoted into management roles each year, training is critical.

First-time managers are usually promoted without the skills needed to be a good manager

Consider This...

of new supervisors

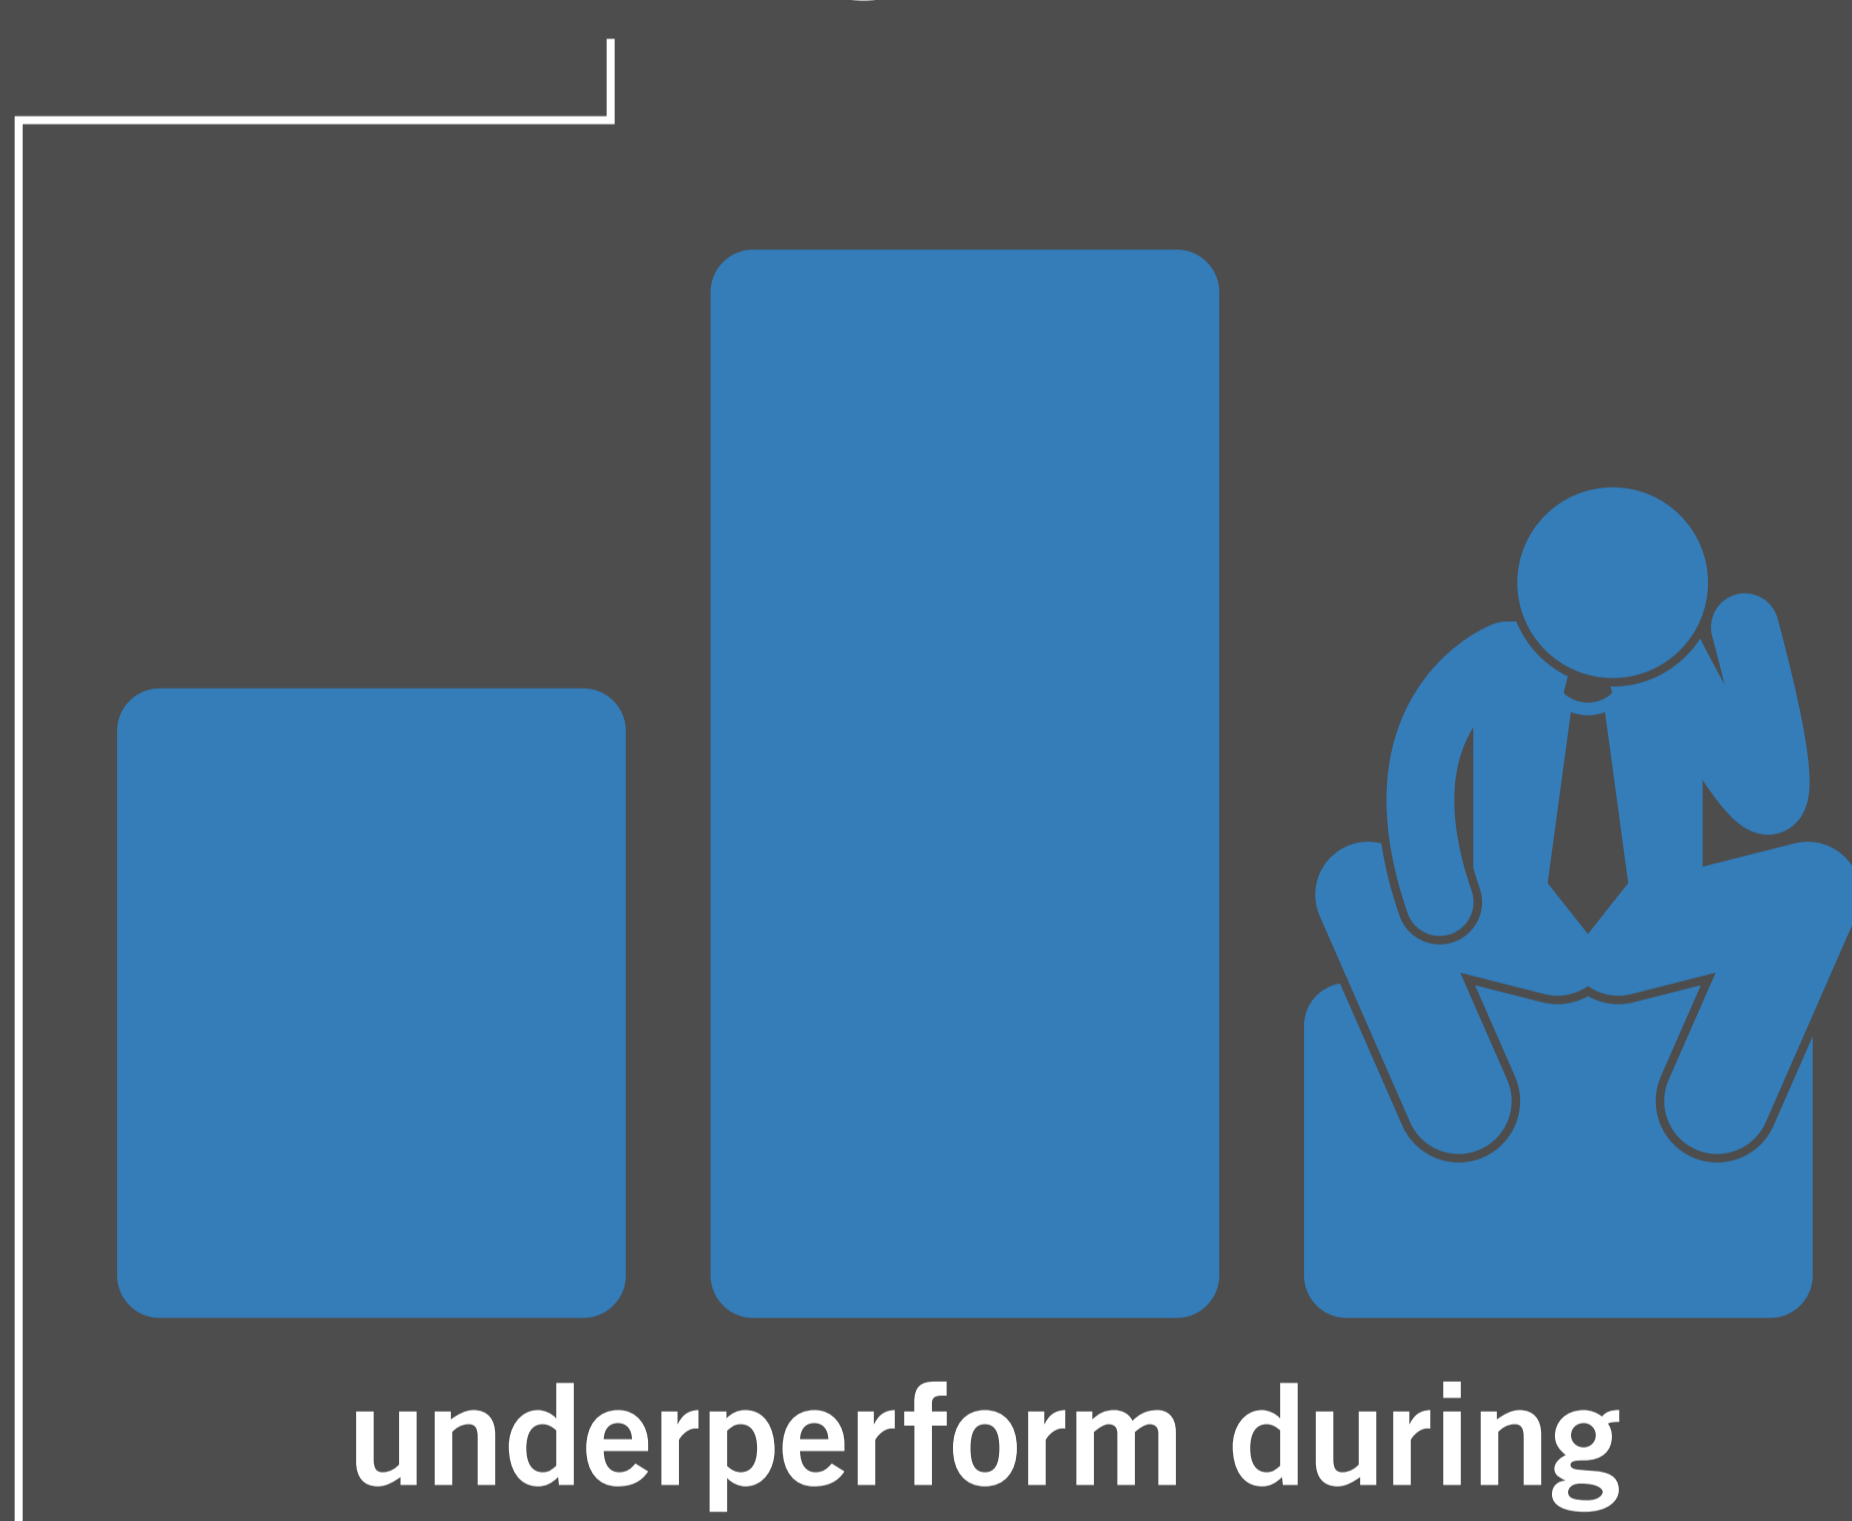

receive no supervisor training

In Fact...

of new managers

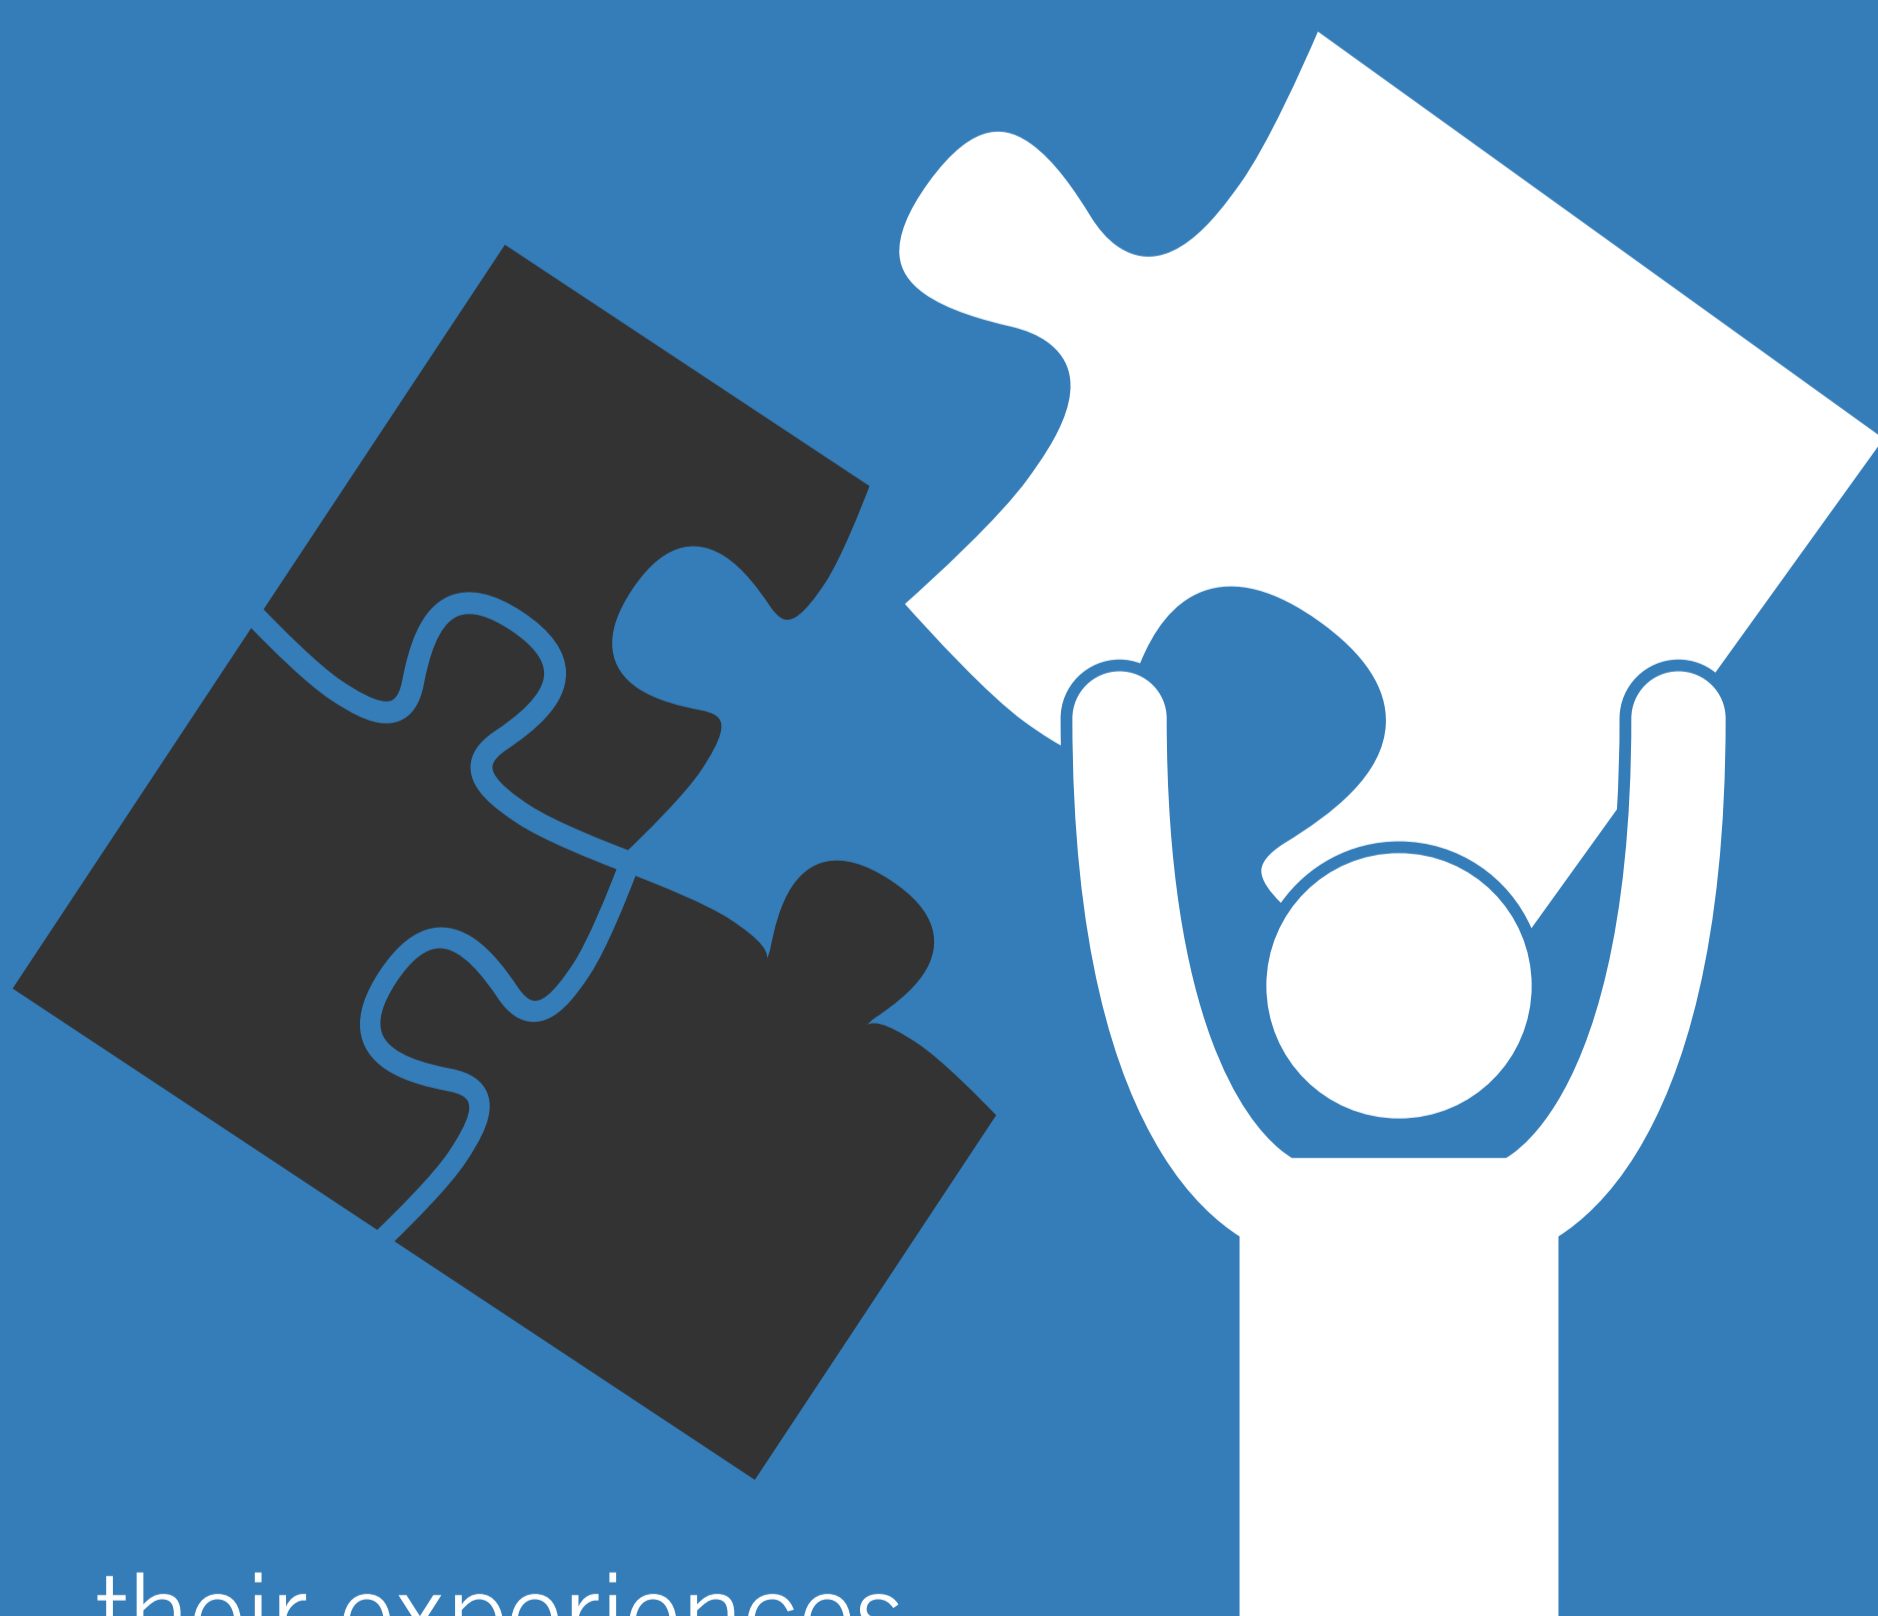

underperform during their first two years

which causes performance gaps and employee turnover

First-time managers are shaped by their experiences in the first year, influencing their leadership styles throughout their careers.

A Great Start Makes All The Difference.
